Art Unit: 2837

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Line 1 is not clear "first means for configured ... energy ", also it is not clear how first means is connected to rest of claim. Line 3 use of the term "at least " is vague and indefinite.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Prior art of fig 1 in application in view of Ichikawa et al and Balch et al.

Prior art of fig 1 discloses electric drive system comprising first and second drive wheels see fig 1 #20 and #21. Prior art lacks disclosing motor comprising first and second rotor and common stator , and closed loop torque controller and closed loop speed controller. Ichikawa et al discloses motor with first , second rotor and common stator see fig 20 #31,#32, 18B and claim 15. Balch et al discloses closed loop speed and torque controller see fig 1 and page 2 paragraphs 2-4. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine the electric system of Prior art fig 1 with the rotors and stator of Ichikawa et al and closed loop controller of Balch for improved control .

Art Unit: 2837

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Das and Secher et al and Lorenzo disclose rotor and common stator .
